TOW AND ITS BEGINNINGS

By Marty Boehme

TOW is short for "Teardroppers of Oregon and Washington." The name is appropriate because we do "tow" our teardrop trailers. Here is how TOW began and what it does today:

It happened in 2001 after displaying our trailers as a novelty at the annual October car show and swap meet put on by the Northwest Car Collectors Association in Portland. The show manager wanted us to petition for full membership in NWCCA. To do this, we had to have a name and an identity.

We came up with TOW and registered it with the State of Oregon. At the same time, Donya Wiland created our infamous cartoon-like logo. In March of 2002 TOW became a full member of NWCCA; the argument being that lots of us tow our trailers with vintage vehicles. We were added to the association; making the total membership at 35.

All member organizations helped put on the show equally; regardless of their size. Then we equally shared the net proceeds. In those early years our share was $800 plus another $200 for the themed display most organizations created. We were fortunate to get a corner area that really showed well with us winning the coveted "best-ten-display" award twice. Our "Santa Coming to Town" award-winning display was even pictured on the cover of "Crusin' Magazine".

We sure had lots of fun working as a team to create our display. We more than covered our expenses. One was a red T-shirt featuring our TOW logo for each team member. Our team's presence at the show was very noticeable and spectators showed lots of interest and asked many questions.

The proceeds have also funded the TOW Line newsletter as well as our www.teardroptrailers.org web site. In addition every year the TOW checking account offers to pay $50 to every host in the Pacific Northwest area who puts on a continuing gathering for us to enjoy. The host's registration fee no way covers their personal expenses.

Alas, the car show has folded with NWCCA currently in limbo perhaps awakening in future years at a more affordable location in the Portland area.

TOW is not an official club with dues-paying members and all the other stuff that goes with a club-type organization. Those who receive the TOW Line are simply "affiliated" recipients and receive the TOW Line as a free e-mail newsletter.

Full Calendar of Events for Jefferson State Chapter of TearJerkers for 2014!

By Grant Whipp

O.K., we have to admit that we were a little selfish last year and pretty much concentrated on the 20th Dam Gathering and our two-month-long 10K-mile cross-country vacation! If for some reason any of you may have felt a little "cheated" because we only had one "Official" JSC/TJ event (the Summer Solstice Gathering at Collier State Park near Chiloquin, OR), we have great news for you for this year! The Jefferson State Chapter of TearJerkers will host no fewer than SEVEN gatherings in 2014! And, if you've ever wondered about the mindset and pastimes of some of the residents of the "Mythical State of Jefferson", any of them will be excellent opportunities for you to find out, firsthand!

The 21st Dam Gathering in Lakehead, CA, May 1-4 (yes, that is now an official JSC/TJ event!) ... the oldest and longest running gathering in the country! If you haven't been yet, why not now?

The Bigfoot Gathering just outside of Orleans, CA, on Hwy 96 (the Bigfoot Highway) May 30 - June 1, where we'll have a rotating Sasquatch Watch each night.

The Ludlum House Fathers' Day Gathering outside of Brookings, OR, June 13-15, a nice quiet & secluded little campground on the banks of a pleasant little creek, with easy access to the Coast.

July 24-27 we will head east of Visalia, CA, for the Kings Canyon / Sequoia National Park Gathering, this park has been called "Yosemite without all the people!" and although it'll be a bit of a drive, you won't be sorry!

August 7-10 will find us at 10,000' up the slopes of Mt Shasta at Panther Meadows for the Mystic Mount Shasta Gathering and keeping our eyes peeled for Lemurians.

At the end of the month, August 28-31, Return to Hat Creek will find us back at Hat Creek Hereford Ranch and RV Park, not far from Lassen National Park, for a nice relaxing fully ammenitized weekend (their fully-stocked camp store features their own ranch-grown steaks, and ice cream!)

Finally, September 18-21 we will be in the middle of Nevada, just off Hwy 50, at the Reunion at the 'Glyphs at Hickeson Petroglyphs Campground, and probably soaking under the stars in the nearby "hot pots" one or two nights.

Full information on any or all of these events can be found on the Jefferson State Chapter section of the TearJerkers Members' website at www.TearJerkers.net or by e-mailing Kay at kayperkay@msn.com

Events that need your response

May 17, 2014 Union Gap, Washington

Yakima/Union Gap Washington: The Central Washington Agricultural Museum, <http://centralwaagmuseum.org/>, would like to add teardrop trailers to their Antique Fair May 17. Arrangements can be made to stay more than the one day of the fair, and I have heard good things about their facility. This is a great Museum with working displays and lots to do.

If you are interested in working with the museum to co-ordinate the teardrop side of the event please contact info@centralwaagmuseum.org

Also the person that I spoke with, Paul, said that they would be interested in working out other dates for teardrops only. This could be a great opportunity for a good location. More on the location @ <http://centralwaagmuseum.org/visitor-information-2/facility/>

June /July 2014 Roslyn Washington

Ed Kelson is wondering if anyone is interested in a rally at his property in Roslyn, Washington sometime in June or July this year. He can't do father's day, but if he gets enough interest for another date, he would consider doing something in Roslyn in addition to the Cascade Campout in August.

GOOD NEWS FOR 2014 Powerland Campout!

By Hiram Stumpjumper (Aumsville, Oregon correspondent)

On a visit to the teardrop campout at Antique Powerland, I found a group of 16 teardrop trailers plus one vintage TTT (Tiny Travel Trailer) on display. The TTT was a beautifully restored Scotty; one you can stand up in. The good news is for 2014, all vintage TTT's can attend this campout. This gives the chance for other gear-head types to view all the vintage-type museums assembled at this location (there are 16 of them) during the annual Steam-Up. The location is at I-5 Exit 263 about 35 miles south of Portland.

Want more information on teardrops and tiny trailers? Try tntt.com a great resource for those building, looking or just wanting to chat about both teardrops and tiny trailers. There is a Northwest as well as a Jefferson State section in addition to all the other great resources. TOW also has a Facebook page (thank you Gretchen), and Kay manages a Facebook page that both TOW and Jefferson State folks post to.

A TOW Goodbye

Gordon E. Engelstad

September 26, 1938 - September 28, 2013

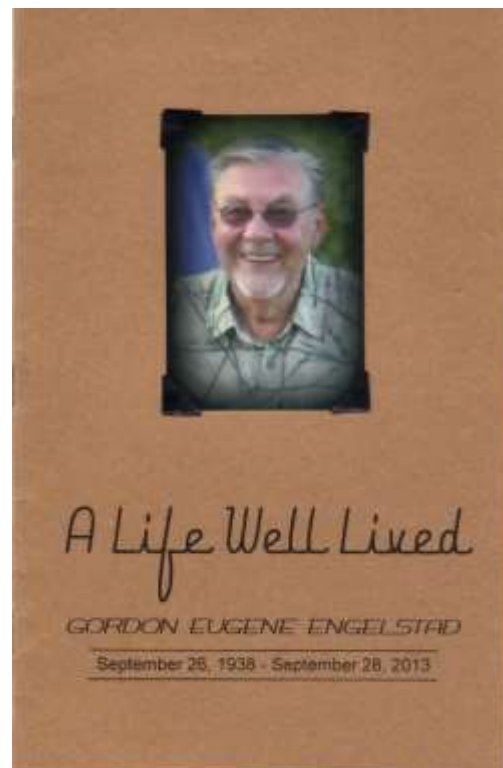

Gordie was born Monday, September 26, 1938 in Everett, WA to Mable Gerthene Engelstad and Oscar Thomas Engelstad. He grew up Seattle and enjoyed playing baseball and basketball. He attended Garfield High School. He married his high school sweetheart, Terry Olmstead, in 1957. They had two daughters, Peni and Mindi. Gordie was a true family man. Instead of hanging out with the guys, he came home after work and played board games with his girls or tinkered in his garage. He worked for Federal Way School District for many years before retiring. Gordie was an Indy, Sprint and Midget race car enthusiast and enjoyed traveling to races. In his last few years he enjoyed watching his grandson drag race. Gordie enjoyed car shows, Rod Runs, flying Trilby kites on the ocean beaches and camping. Gordie loved his granddaughter and grandson! He was the type of grampa who would drive an hour to watch a 40-minute soccer game on a cold Friday night. He was there for T-ball, volleyball, quarter midgets, and baseball. It didn't matter if it was a cold evening or a sweltering day, he was there to watch his grandkids. In his younger years he was a quiet man but in his senior years he never met a stranger. He was always clowning around and playing pranks on people, not to make fun of them, but because he thought it was so funny. He got his sense of humor from his step-dad and when those two got together, it was one prank after another! In his last month he celebrated a 56th wedding anniversary with his bride and also his 75th birthday.

Gordie passed on to Heaven at 5:35 A.M. Saturday, September 28, 2013. Noting the time would have been important to him.

He is preceded in death by his parents, Oscar Engelstad and Gerthene Kitson, step-father, Walt Kitson, step-mother, Perle Engelstad, mother-in-law and father-in-law, Hazel and Izzy Laskowski, sister-in-law, Darolyn Milam, brother-in-law, Dean Snyder, aunt and uncle, Ida and Paul Wallace, cousin, Marty Mart.

He is survived by his wife, Terry, daughters, Peni Petett, Mindi (Mike) Gardner, granddaughter, Crystal Petett, grandson, Chase Gardner, sister-in-law, Becky Laskowski, nephews, Mike and Max Snyder, and many cousins.

LeMay Gathering 2013

By Michele Guerrini

Another great LeMay Open House Teardrop Gathering and Car Show has come and gone. This year it was over Labor Day weekend and it was very well attended with fantastic weather. Thanks to Jan and Pat Estes for organizing this great event once again. They do a wonderful job every year.

For those of you who aren't familiar with the LeMay Open House it has been going on for years and years. It used to be a once-a-year event that the Marymount grounds were open to the public. Now they're open six days a week but the LeMay family home a couple miles away is still only open on the last weekend of August so it is a special event. During this event the teardrop group is the only group that gets to stay overnight on the grounds.

By my count this year we had 20 trailers. Of those 20 trailers, two were older Airstreams (yes they allow a few vintage trailers besides teardrops!), one trailerboat, one Mojo and one Teardrop American Outbacker that the owner purchased only a week before the event. The rest were teardrops. There were 30 people camping over the weekend. Most were there Friday and Saturday nights but a few stayed Sunday night since the next day was Labor Day. Also 11 of those trailers were towed by collector cars.

Friday night most people head over to Kelley's, a hamburger joint that encourages people to show off their cars on Friday nights. We have a good dinner and then head back to camp for our meeting, instructions and a little fun around the battery powered lanterns (no fires allowed at this campout). Then we are up early Saturday to have a little breakfast that Jan and Pat set up and prepare our trailers for the general public to check out. Some people are volunteers at the open house and head to their posts but some just hang out at their trailers and wander the grounds looking at all the cars in the LeMay collection, looking at the cars that the general public brings to the car show, finding great stuff at the swap meet or maybe getting a great deal at the auto auction. This year there were some nice cars up for auction with some pretty good deals. Of course some cars required some pretty deep pockets if you wanted to take them home.

As all teardroppers know, one of the fun things about owning a teardrop is talking about it with people who are interested in building or getting one or just curious. This event is a great place for that since it is open to the general public. After my volunteer shift I went back to my trailer and immediately was asked questions by a couple of men who were very interested in building one and were there to get ideas. I think they got some great ideas from all the trailers and sounds like they would like to be showing their trailers next year. It is always fun to pass on information about the trailers and upcoming gatherings to teardrop wannabees!

This was my 5th LeMay Campout and I enjoy them every time. Before getting my teardrop in 2008 I used to come and look at all the little teardrops dreaming about the day I would get one. When I did find one on Craigslist I was very excited to be able to bring my own teardrop to this event. Also LeMay encourages people to bring their collector cars along with their trailer and it is a lot of fun bringing my 1939 Chevy 4 Door Master Deluxe with the teardrop.

A Great Time at the Beach (Ocean Tears 2013)

As sent to Marty

When we walked to the beach from our camp, we encountered a wonderful stretch of almost flat sand about a quarter-mile wide. There were many cars and trucks parked with families spilled out - some under canopies or simply sitting in a lawn chair enjoying the gentle breeze and sunshine. What a sight! There must have been 60 to 70 outfits on this Ocean Shores beach that is about six miles long with entry/exit roads along the way.

We saw all sorts of activity. Mainly it was kite flying, but vendors also moved in to sell their wares and services. One offered horseback rides. Another was a vendor that supplied pedal-powered three and four wheel bikes and carnages. Yet another offered scooters for rent; you saw them everywhere on the streets of town and on the beach. In town, it was even possible to pay for a ride on a camel! This was what the Ocean Tears offered on their annual campout at Ocean City State Park (near Aberdeen, WA). We were scattered about, but gathered for campfire chats around a Friday evening campfire and at the Saturday supper potluck. Gathering simplicity was the norm where you made your own campsite reservations and other meals. Laidback it was!!

Great visiting with everyone was everywhere and enjoyable. Of the 11 of us campers, there was one couple who camped for their first night in their homebuilt. This couple had always wanted to build a teardrop so early this year; they made tent camping reservations intending to gather ideas on some of the features they wanted for their build. However, as the date got closer, they decided to build a simple 5-wide tear. It was a GREAT job, even though they downplayed their effort that started just two-weeks before the campout! A two-week build is remarkable.

The weather was perfect. The atmosphere was enjoyable and every one of us enjoyed making new teardrop friends.

TOW branded items available!

We have also added a TOWLine (good pun that) of merchandise on CafePress there is an article later in this writing with directions to the site. A portion of the proceeds go to TOW. Why does TOW need money? Well it doesn't take much, but the website and associated software cost money, and there are fees associated with having a non-profit club, let's not underestimate how much Mr TaxMan wants his money. TOW branded items can be obtained at the TOW CafePress website. A portion of the sales price goes to TOW (the rest goes to CafePress). There is everything from receiver hitch covers to pajamas.

1. 1 loaf Italian bread (10 to 12 inches)
2. 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, softened
3. 1 tablespoon spicy brown or country-style Dijon mustard
4. 6 slices (1 oz each) Swiss cheese
5. 3/4 lb thinly sliced fully cooked ham

Instructions

1. Step 1
2. Heat gas or charcoal grill. Spray 25x18-inch sheet of heavy-duty foil with cooking spray. Without cutting all the way through, cut loaf of bread into 12 (3/4-inch) slices, cutting to within 1/4 inch of bottom.
3. Step 2
4. Stir together butter and mustard. Spread every other slice of bread with slightly less than 2 teaspoons mustard mixture, creating 6 sandwiches. Fold each slice of cheese in half diagonally; tuck each into sandwich. Divide ham evenly among sandwiches, tucking in to fit. Place loaf on center of foil. Seal edges, making tight 1/2-inch fold; fold again, allowing space for heat circulation and expansion.
5. Step 3
6. Place foil-wrapped loaf on grill over medium heat. Cover grill; cook 20 to 25 minutes or until cheese is melted and loaf is hot, turning loaf frequently. To serve, open packet carefully to allow steam to escape. Remove foil from loaf; pull apart sandwiches.
